I'm talking to a guy who lives in California.

He works for a company that makes computers.

- 2 PAIR WORK. Practice saying the sentences in Activity 1 on page 52.

Listening

- 1 Read this message on a dating website.

Hi, my name is Sharon, and I'm 20 years old. I'm a business major in New York, and I want to work in import-export when I graduate next year. I'm looking for friends who live and study in other countries. I live at home with my parents and sister. We have two dogs and a lot of cats. I'm interested in music, but I don't like loud rock music. My favorite kind of music is classical, but I also like jazz. I enjoy cooking, painting, and drawing.

- 2 Listen to three voicemail messages. Where do the guys live? Who lives the closest to Sharon?

- 3 Listen again. Mark the sentences T (true) or F (false).

- Alex and Sharon have similar tastes in music. ____
- Alex and his mother have a lot of cats and dogs. ____
- Curtis has pictures of cats and dogs on his website. ____
- Curtis is someone who enjoys cooking. ____
- Josh lives in a place where he can't have pets. ____
- Josh works as a cook in Osaka, Japan. ____

- 4 Who do you think Sharon should reply to? Why?

Reading

- 1 Look at the title and headings in the article. Which of the suggestions for a first date can you do where you live?

CD 2
Track 15

Ideas for a first date

Maggie Carr suggests some great (and cheap!) ideas for a first date.

Planning a first date? Congratulations! Here are some tips on things to do that are both fun and inexpensive.

- 1 See a movie I know, a movie is an obvious choice. But there are plenty of ways you can impress your date. First of all, let your date choose the movie. And try to find a movie theater that has style, such as comfortable seats or an interesting décor. And make sure you meet early— that way you'll have time to get tickets to the movie you want!
- 2 Go ice skating—or roller blading If you enjoy more active dates, why not suggest ice skating or roller blading? If your date likes the idea—go for it! It means that you both enjoy the same kinds of things. And don't worry if you can't skate—sometimes it's fun to fall down!
- 3 Fly a kite Who says no one flies kites anymore? This is still a great way to have fun at the park! If you're good at it, that's even better! And if you aren't—don't worry! Your lack of skill will make your date laugh!
- 4 Go to the zoo Everyone likes animals, right? So a trip to the zoo makes an ideal first date. You can impress your companion with your knowledge of animal life—but first, make sure that you know what you're talking about!
- 5 Have a picnic by a lake or river Picnics are fun—and if you're a good cook, why not make the food yourself? If not, buying the right picnic items is also a useful skill. But remember, choosing the perfect picnic spot is critical. Pick a place where there's a nice view and an opportunity for romance!

- 2 Read the article. Where do you think it is from? Circle the correct answer.

a. a textbook      b. a magazine      c. a newspaper

- 3 Read the article again. Then check (✓) the things that Maggie recommends.

1. Always choose a movie you have already seen. ____
2. Learn to skate before you take your date skating. ____
3. Avoid flying kites if you don't have much experience. ____
4. Impress your date with what you know about animals. ____
5. Prepare or shop for your own picnic ingredients. ____

- 4 Which do you think is the best suggestion? What other ideas can you think of?
